

Amanda's Book List Application

User Guide

This is an application to maintain the books I have read and want to read. I built this website on my Linux laptop using HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Perl, and MySQL. I created this website as part of my Web Master certification and continue to use it to track the books I have read.

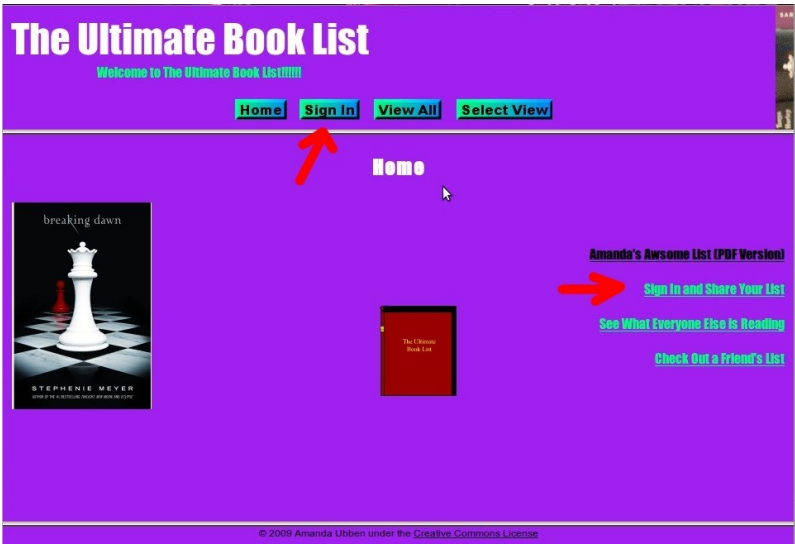

The following describes the experience a user would have when using Amanda's Book List Application.

Home Page

This is the home page for Amanda's Book List Application. From here the user has many options to manage their book lists.

Sign In

Click on either the “Sign In” button on top or the “Sign In and Share Your List” link on the side to log in and view your list.
